

I was driven away from local broadcasting as the result of the trend to offer 25 minutes of advertising for 35 minutes of programming each hour. This ridiculous ratio allowed by the FCC has resulted in my paying a monthly fee to obtain the information and entertainment without listening to the same used car advertisement 20 times a week. Local broadcasting fails to serve the needs or desires of the listeners and now that I am paying to obtain that information the FCC is going to prevent the pay services from providing the local traffic and weather conditions that is only available once per hour thru local broadcasting. Thanks for allowing local broadcasting to become unusable and then attacking the alternative system that provides a service that can improve the safety and fuel efficiency of all who must commute on the gridlocked highways surrounding metro areas.
